Youths Attempt Firebomb Attack On Reagan's Home

Governor, Family Unhurt

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —A Secret Service man fired one warning shot at two Negro youths he caught approaching Gov. Ronald Reagan's home with two firebombs Tuesday night. The bombs did not ignite.

GOVERNOR REAGAN

Police said the incident apparently was related to disturbances which started earlier Tuesday about two miles southwest.

The Republican governor's communications director, Lyn Nofziger, told newsmen the young men approached the Reagan home on foot as the Reagans were watching television inside.

When the Secret Service man challenged them, they ran, dropping two bottles filled apparently with flammable liquid and with rag wicks attached. Neither caught fire.

YOUTHS FLEE — The youths ran down the street chased by the Secret Service man who fired a warning shot into the air, Nofziger said, adding that no one was reported hit.

One youth jumped into a car which sped away and the other outran pursuers, which by that time included state police officers, the Reagan aide said. Neither youth was caught.

He said Reagan and his wife Nancy were unaware what was happening outside.

Nofziger said Reagan did not want to comment on the incident immediately.

The Reagans rented the home in fashionable eastern Sacramento about two miles from the old governor's mansion, which the Reagans found unsuitable after a short stay there.

Secret Service men were assigned to guard Reagan, along with other presidential candidates—announced or not—after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles June 5. Reagan is California's favorite son candidate to the GOP national convention.

Nofziger said police told him the incident may have been related to troubles in the Oak Park section. That area is highly populated with Negroes.

During the disturbance, which broke out Tuesday afternoon, cars full of predominantly Negro youths drove into surrounding areas throwing firebombs, rocks and bottles. No major damage was reported.

Ten persons were arrested on charges of damaging property, Capt. Paul Hammigan said.

RACIAL DISTURBANCE — In Oak Park, where police sealed off the small business district to traffic for a while, a white man was stabbed by a group of Negro youths who costed him when he got out of his car.

Study Sale Of Liquor On Sunday

Berrien Could Vote On Issue

The Berrien board of supervisors' legislative committee is set to meet before or during Monday's board meeting to decide whether to introduce a liquor on Sunday resolution.

The state legislature on June 6 passed a bill allowing county governments the option to legalize Sunday liquor by the glass. If the county failed to pass it, liquor backers could petition to put the question on the ballot.

Legislative Committee Chairman Roger Carter of Coloma said his committee would "huddle" before or during Monday's meeting in the county courthouse and decide whether to introduce the liquor measure.

Carter said if the board didn't act Monday it would have two more monthly sessions in which to act.

Only licensed on-premises liquor dealers who received more than half their gross receipts from the sale of "food and other goods and services" would be eligible for the Sunday liquor trade.

Carter said perhaps tavern-keepers should be polled before the issue is raised before the board. He said he has received a call from one man and talked to several others about Sunday liquor.

And because of unusual circumstances, Mittan on Aug. 6 will also be opposed by Betz in a second primary to pick the GOP standbearer for a new, full term as state representative starting Jan. 1. The Mittan-Betz winner in the second primary will be paired off against Appelget again at the Nov. 5 general election to decide the full term representative.

Berrien County Clerk Forrest Kesterke noted that the 2,252 ballots cast for the two GOP candidates were expensive ones. He estimated that all costs involved in conducting the special primary ran to "at least $20,000" in just the Berrien county portion of the district.

His figure did not include the cost of staging the run-off in seven precincts in Cass county. On the basis of Kesterke's estimate, each ballot cost in the neighborhood of $10.

where he got 9 out of the 14 GOP ballots cast. Two other Dowagiac precincts produced 15-15 and 2-2 ties. In Mittan's home territory, (See back page, sec. 1, col. 5)

Kesterke Tells Of Big Snafu

Printing Is Problem For Aug. 6 Vote

Berrien County Clerk Forrest Kesterke said today that only with the best of luck will he be able to get all the ballots printed in time for the Aug. 6th primary election.

It already is impossible to get the seven separate ballots printed and distributed to election officials for the legal date to start issuance of absentee ballots on July 17.

Kesterke said with 21 different county supervisor districts crossing township and city lines and with three different legislative districts crossing all of those units in the county, there will be at least 48 different combinations that the partisan county ballot must be printed in.

On top of that, he added, a new requirement resulting from a State Appeals Court decision last Friday calls for the names of candidates for each contested office to be rotated. Kesterke said the requirement to rotate names will lengthen the already tedious printing job involved.

The printing job likely will take at least two weeks, and may extend to three, he said. It will be about July 17 before proof ballots can be printed and the law provides that the candidates must be given five days to inspect the proofs for corrections before the printer can start work on the final ballots. Thus, according to Kesterke, it likely will be about July 22 before three presses can start turning out the final ballots.

Seven separate types of ballots must be prepared. Most complicated will be the partisan ballot covering the

Students Charged With Smuggling

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda reported today that two American students were caught trying to smuggle out anti-Soviet literature provided by the Chinese Embassy in Moscow.

The Communist party newspaper said customs officials at Brest, on the Soviet-Polish border, also discovered Russian icons hidden in the Americans' car.

The newspaper identified the two young men as James Kratzer and Larry Watson and said they were students at an affiliate of Stanford University in Vienna.

The U.S. Embassy said it knew nothing about the report and was investigating.

Pravda's report from Brest indicated that the students were being held in custody, but it was not clear on this point.

The party organ said the willingness of the Chinese Embassy to provide anti-Soviet propaganda to Americans "convincingly showed what sort of friends the Chinese splitters (of the Communist movement) rely on."

"This proves the worth of the Chinese curses against American imperialism," the paper added.

The Chinese Embassy declined to comment.

Alvin O. Knaak

A common figure of speech is to place some individual or an event in a particular generation.

Our Oxford dictionary defines a generation in these terms:

"The whole body of individuals born about the same period; also, the time covered by the lives of these."

Ordinarily, the figure of speech refines the dictionary's outline to a smaller scale. When one gets to talking about what went on in the old home town his concept of a generation dwells upon a comparatively small group.

So it was yesterday morning when learning of Alvin O. Knaak's death that we reacted to his passing as the closing of a door in St. Joe's history.

Memory is one of the more fallible human capabilities, but we can recall that there was a time when not much got done around here except as Bob Carlton, Waldo Tiscornia, Rex Wynkoop, Lester Farnum and Alvin Knaak caucused on how best to accomplish the job.

This baffled and irritated their political opponents no end, but their soundings of what the different neighborhoods thought was best for the town were pretty much on target.

Their huddles over a 30-year span covered the years of St. Joseph emerging from an overgrown village into a modern small city.

They committed some errors, a fault to which none of us can claim immunity, but our town is the better for their combined judgment on questions best stated in "how do we go about doing this or preventing that from happening?"

Mr. Knaak was the survivor of that unique fivesome. When it did break up he retired from being an active watchdog on city hall affairs to concentrate on his private business, which, it might be added, was conducted as skillfully as was his civic work.

He was a quiet man, an interesting man.

He was a fine man.

The Violent Require Violence

It is utter nonsense to accept supinely the judgment frequently voiced by both foreign and domestic critics that violence in the United States is the symptom of a critical and perhaps fatal breakdown in the moral fiber of our people who are now senselessly engaged in dismantling the legal, economic and social structure of our society.

It is especially ludicrous when violence and lawlessness in the U. S. is looked upon with shock in countries such as France, very nearly embroiled in a civil war of her own; Germany, with an unparalleled record of brutality; Russia, with one of the most barbaric backgrounds in world history, or other communist countries whose governments are founded on the concept and daily practice of oppression and brutal disregard for the value of human life.

Violence of the type that could one day precipitate World War III exists in China, in Cuba, and in the Middle Eastern countries from whence came the twisted mind and the hatred that felled Senator Kennedy. The fact that there are few countries in the world with a national record justifying their throwing rocks at the United States does not excuse in any way what is happening here or explain it.

Far from being too violent, it may be that the people of the U.S. are not violent enough. This country has gone further along the way of advancing the cause of individual freedom and opportunity than any other nation in history. This has been our national purpose and the reason why millions of the world's oppressed came to our shores.

Perhaps the American people have leaned too far over backwards to avoid any semblance of violent oppression of the individual's freedom. Perhaps this is why leaders in education and government and the courts have, by their collective action, fashioned the new "policy of permissiveness" that encourages individual, as well as mob, license and undermines the rule of law, the basis of liberty itself.

It seems to many that what we are experiencing in the United States is not a sickness of our society, but rather what will prove to be in the perspective of history, a relatively short period of confusion concerning the proper application of legal and economic principles vital to the life and development of a free society.

Lethal Kindness

Visitors to national parks in the West are killing the bears with kindness. Neither bears nor tourists heed the "Don't Feed the Bears" signs, and it is when the visiting seasons ends that bears learn the shortcomings of a welfare state.

By summer's end the bears have forgotten what their mothers taught them about the land. So they try living off the reservation and a really spoiled bear will walk 25 miles a day in search of a handout.

A bear ranger says many of these dependent bears end up as rugs, once they wander beyond that land of easy living among the "Don't Feed the Bears" signs. His advice to people who say they like animals is to let the bears be bears.

The New Buffalo board of education today announced it has purchased 15.7 acres of land on which the new 12-classroom elementary school will be built. The tract of land is located on Detroit street just outside the southwest corner of the village limits on the west side of the street. The purchase agreement was signed by the owners, Edward Sachman and Stella Skwiercz, during the past weekend and returned to the board of education.

The board chose the site, one of three possible ones, after considering recommendations of the department of public instruction, the school architect, R. S. Garganoff of Ypsilanti, and the adaptability of the site to the building proposed, site development cost and cost of purchase of land.

ALLIES BEGIN EUROPEAN BATTLE
—25 Years Ago—

American, British and Canadian troops invaded Sicily today, striking with powerful air and sea forces in the first major land blow aimed at Hitler's Europe. Axis estimates indicated that a mighty host of at least 30 Allied divisions — perhaps 450,000 troops — had been thrown into the invasion, together with 2,000 planes.

London sources pictured the attack as being evenly divided between battle-hardened American and British troops, supported by Canadian forces, moved into the Mediterranean since the battle of Africa ended last June 10.

GUN IMAGERY IS A MENACE
Editor, The Herald-Press:

Inasmuch as Congress, state legislatures and city councils are busily engaged in ironing out the wrinkles in gun control legislation, why not go right down to the bottom of the issue and start from scratch by legislating out of existence the toy gun menace followed by the prohibition of gun-play on television, stage and radio? The urge of the cessation of the manufacture and sale of toy guns is no new idea. It was a prevalent issue in a n y years back and was a feature on the agenda of many women's clubs and Parent-Teacher associations.

It appears that the citizenry of this great country have the habit of cutting down the weeds instead of uprooting the seeds that give them growth.

The toy pistol in the hands of a small child has the same effect on its mentality as does the real gun in the hands of an irresponsible person. The nerve shattering exhibition of open gun-play on television, viewed by children and thrilling to many adults has an effect as devastating as does the use of firearms in our daily existence.

The mere possession of a firearm, rifle, shotgun, machine gun or pistol is open testimony of preparation for a killing, whether of man or beast. Irrespective of the use to which the gun may be put, the evidence of preparation is still present.

The same holds true with the toy pistol or gun. It imitates the real thing, and the same manifestation of preparedness makes its presence felt.

Criminality has made such huge inroads into American life, in the homes, the entertainment world and has loaded the market with every kind of crime and sex literature, that irreparable damage has resulted affecting past, present and possibly future generations.

The prospect of the future looks none too bright so long as this building up of crime, toy murder weapons, unwholesome reading matter and televised acts of evil and criminality are permitted to exist for business reasons.

Putting a toy pistol in the hands of a child, or attempting to translate vicious screen actions into another category of words does not remove from the child that which was seen and in most cases committed to memory, and, the giving of the toy gun may appear to be a simple gesture, but the thought of killing goes with it, for both are tied in together.

If we are so interested in gun control, then why continue the schooling of a child in the very thing we seek to regulate or control? One hedges the other.

We talk about crime prevention, fire prevention and accident prevention and seek such measures, but turn our backs on the causes, and toy weapons and crime programs and publicized evil by our publishing houses are three of these causes. Our job is to destroy these causes, and fix parental responsibility.

This is not moralizing, nor an attempt to preach. It's the gospel truth for the evidence can be found everywhere and anywhere we care to look. The children are being capitalized upon by commerce and industry.

We all know this. So does the President and the Congress, unless they are blind.

PRaises EDITORIAL 'A FORECAST'

Editor, The Herald-Press:

We have read with marked interest, your splendid editorial, "A forecast," which appeared in the Chicago Tribune. Such a timely notice is rarely forthcoming, for it strikes at the very root of our present debate.

Having been engaged in welfare activities to alleviate the misfortune of those from circumstances over which they had little control, I can speak as a practical observer. We acted with a kindred spirit, Herbert Hoover, an exemplifying true charity the sole purpose to maintain the self-respect and dignity of the individual.

However, this ended with the advent of FDR and the New Deal. Political charlatans and demagogues saw in this a golden field for votes. In your article quoting the Scottish historian, Justice Tytler: "From that moment on the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from the public treasury." The result is we presently have 132 bureaus and departments working overtime with automatic checkwriters dispensing public largess to over 45 million people covering unheard of phases of inactivity. This doctrine "you can reap where others have sown," is the dominant force in our $365 billion national debt, with its $15 billion annual interest charge.

Upon viewing this modern Belshazzar's feast after his return, General MacArthur also stated the hand-writing on the wall: "We have drifted dangerously far from shore, from the simple, yet immutable pattern so skillfully etched by the Founding Fathers."

May God grant you the strength and courage to carry on your appointed work to preserve all we hold dear.

.. And Speaking Of Your Health

If a child is born with a heart murmur, how is it determined if it is, or is not a dangerous kind?

It is a never ending source of wonder that so few children are born with any kind of heart murmur or heart defect, considering the millions that are born each year. They occur so rarely that mothers must not have the slightest anxiety about this possibility. The frequency is even further reduced because doctors now follow most pregnancies from the time they are definitely established until delivery. All drugs are now reduced to a minimum during pregnancy and eliminate the frequency of this complication.

A simple, unimportant heart murmur is usually unaccompanied by the tell-tale symptoms that identify the more important murmurs. The safe, "functional" murmurs do not affect the growth of the infant, his health, and, later, his capacity to indulge in full activity in sports. No limitation is imposed on the child with such a murmur, in order to avoid possibility of the child learning about it and feeling insecure, or inadequate, as a result.

When he is old enough, he can be told about it, with the emphasis made on its relative unimportance.

A more complicated murmur, due to some heart defect, can be studied in many ways. There are now specialists who, by X-rays and angiograms, can pinpoint any defect in the heart valves, or the walls that separate the right side of the heart from the left.

So remarkable are the advances made in the diagnosis and in the surgery of heart defects that many children who might otherwise have been chronic invalids can eventually live perfectly normal, healthy adult lives.

What are the most common types of hearing impairment?

Are they different in the young from the adult?

There are two most common forms of deafness. The first is called the conductive type, in which there is some interference with sound waves as they enter the ear canal and make the ear drum vibrate. Infections of the middle ear on the other side of the ear drum interfere with the transmission of the sound of the spoken voice.

The second type is called the perceptive form, or nerve deafness due to disease of the inner ear, the nerves going to the brain and disease of the brain itself. Frequently, there can be a combination of both the conductive and the nerve deafness in the person.

A special condition called otosclerosis is one that tends to occur more frequently in women and, almost always, has an hereditary background. This particular kind of deafness lends itself to some of the new, remarkable, and ingenious operations that have been devised in the past 25 years.

With advancing age, there frequently is a gradual loss of hearing, especially for the high tones. This is known as presbycusis and is considered to be a combination of both types of hearing impairment.

The advances in the use of modern hearing aids have been remarkably effective in amplifying sound for those who have this form of deafness. The benefits are great for those who can break through the restrictions of their vanity that cheats them of the right to hear again.

Opening lead — seven of diamonds.

When you are faced with a seemingly impossible task, you should take some extra time to try to figure a way out of your dilemma. This is especially true when the contract is a grand slam and you cannot afford to overlook even a remote possibility.

Consider this case where South is in seven notrump through no fault of his own. North's Blackwood bid is surely reasonable enough, but his failure to inquire about kings after South responds with three aces defies explanation.

Declarer now cashed the nine of diamonds, discarding a spade from his hand, and West was in deep trouble.

A spade discard would permit South to cash the ace of spades and win the last two tricks in dummy, while a heart discard would allow South to cash the ace of hearts and win the last two tricks in his own hand.

Actually West discarded a heart in the hope of finding East with the queen, and South had no trouble winning the rest of the tricks. So North's prognostication of thirteen tricks actually came true, which would seem to indicate that it pays to live dangerously.

Make 9th Arrest In Case

Money Orders
Stolen In Riot

Benton Harbor police Tuesday arrested Wilbur Gillespie, Jr., 26, of 348 Brunson avenue in the continuing investigation of money orders allegedly stolen from a Chicago currency exchange. Police charged the arrest of Gillespie resulted in the cashing of a $150 money order drawn on the Cosmo Currency exchange, 3616 West 16th street, Chicago. The investigation has produced the arrests of four men in Benton Harbor and five in Buchanan. Gillespie is accused of uttering and publishing (a fraudulent document). Arraigned yesterday in Benton Harbor Municipal court on the same charge was Cameo K. Crump, 36, of 273 Morton avenue, Benton Harbor. He demanded examination. Bond was set at $2,500.

St. Joe Sets Asset Limit On Housing

Seek Federal Approval On
$15,000 Figure

St. Joseph Housing commission yesterday approved a policy of establishing a $15,000 ceiling on assets as part of the prerequisites for admission into its new senior citizens high-rise apartment building.

The commission and federal public housing officials have been arguing over the amount of assets a prospective renter could have and still be eligible. The housing commission has argued that with property rated high in St. Joseph a resident who would otherwise qualify should not be penalized because of the assets rule.

The housing commission at one time studied a plan to ignore assets completely and then set the figure at $17,000. Federal officials want the assets as low as $10,000.

Secretary C. Thomas Daley told the board yesterday he thinks the compromise figure of $15,000 would be acceptable to federal housing officials.

Lewis Filstrup was re-elected chairman, Ray Carlson vice chairman and Daley secretary at the board's reorganization meeting.

Dwight (Curley) Holland, contractor building the 15-story apartment house at No. 1 State street, said it will take time to reassemble crews of carpenters following settlement this week of a two-month-old strike.

SECOND DELAY

Another delay is the continuing strike of operating engineers who operate elevators in the new building.

Holland said work would be pushed where possible.

Cabinets have arrived, Holland said, for kitchens but rather than send them back to the manufacturer he stored them in his warehouse and covered them with special insurance so they would be on hand when the building is ready for installation.

The board approved the bid of Electronic Service Co. of South Bend, Ind. to install a master television antenna.

From Ludington, the Piersons will travel by ferry to Manitowish before returning home.

When their vacation is over, the Piersons will have peddled — whew — more than 400 miles.

RETURN OF THE WHISTLERS: Five wild whistling swans (Olor Columbianus) this week visited Grand Mere lakes at Stevensville. The swans have put in an annual appearance at the lakes for the past several years, usually in the early spring. Once threatened with extinction, the beautiful birds are now increasing in numbers under stringent international protection. However, the birds still occasionally fall prey to hunters. Two were killed by a hunter at Grand Mere last year. The graceful, dignified birds have wingspans of up to eight feet and are noted for their muffled, musical whistle which is often mistaken for the honking call of the Canadian goose, a close relative they much resemble in their gliding flight.

SWANS IN FLIGHT: The calmness and stateliness of the white birds down through the ages has excited admiration and has caused these birds to figure much in poetic literature. The whistling swan breeds in northern Canada and winters in Chesapeake Bay and the sounds of North Carolina. They associate with wild geese and feed largely upon water plants. These unusual pictures were taken by staff photographer Wes Stafford using a 35 mm Nikon camera with a 105 mm lens on Panatomic X film.

It also was reported that the library during June had received nine new books.

The township board also approved bills totaling $524.90.

Lodge May Open Door To Negroes

Eagles Convention
To Take Up Issue

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — The Fraternal Order of Eagles lodge of Oil City will ask the Grand Aerie Fraternal Order at its national convention to eliminate the word "Caucasian" from the club's membership applications.

If the resolution is approved at the national convention in Houston Aug. 1, the way would be open for Negroes and other nonwhites to apply for memberships in clubs throughout the nation.

Applications to the FOE local lodges now specify that only Caucasians may apply for membership.

The Oil City club approved Tuesday a resolution which was passed unanimously by 250 members attending a meeting, according to the club's Past Worthy President Neil Johns.

Maurice Splain Jr. of Pittsburgh, secretary of the board of grand trustees and a member of the Oil City club, presented the resolution at the meeting.

Splain said, however, that he submitted the resolution as a private individual and member, not as an official of the Grand Aerie.

Splain refused to comment further on the resolution. He said it was a private matter of the Oil City club.

BH Stores Plan Sidewalk Days

Three-Day Event To Feature Many Bargains

Downtown Benton Harbor merchants move their wares outside Thursday, Friday and Saturday as they stage their Third Annual Downtown Sidewalk Days sale event.

Slated to start tomorrow morning and last through the close of business Saturday, the event will feature timely, in-season merchandise at discounted prices.

Downtown businesses were busy today grouping and marking down prices on the thousands of items to be placed on sale.

Special racks and tables of merchandise will be prominently displayed in entry ways and on sidewalks in front of each place of business, according to spokesmen for the Downtown Benton Harbor Retail Merchants Association. They also promised an adequate number of clerks on hand to help customers find desired items and promptly complete the purchase transaction outside.

Bargain-minded shoppers are also reminded that many of the stores will continue summer clearance sales inside their stores during sidewalk days.

BH To Sell $2 Million In Notes

The City of Benton Harbor will sell $2 million in urban renewal notes to the Bank of America at an interest rate of 3.34 per cent.

Bank of America was low among five bidders in proposals that were opened yesterday for sale of the six-month notes. The interest rate is lower than long-term bond issues because competition is keen for notes of short duration.

Sale of the short term notes is fifth in the city's urban renewal project. They are used to obtain temporary funds and will be paid off eventually by federal government and city funds.

Wave Of Reductions Expected

Major Companies
'Competing' With Independent Firms

Standard Oil service stations in the Twin Cities dropped gasoline prices three cents a gallon at 8 a.m. today, starting a wave that was expected to spread to other major companies.

W. H. (Duke) Ehrenberg, owner of two Standard Oil stations said regular gas is now 33.9 cents, down from 36.9 cents a gallon, and that premium gas is 37.9 cents, down from 40.9 cents a gallon.

Independents previously dropped their prices to 31.9 cents a gallon for regular gas over the past two weeks and the five-cent spread was considered too much by major outlets.

Heads of other oil firms immediately began checking with headquarters for instructions on lowering prices but all said they will remain "competitive" and expect to have their pump prices down sometime today.

Martin Edinborough, president of Pyramid Oil Co., said it takes time to check with suppliers and contact all dealers' and Patrick McMullen, general manager of Theisen Clemens division of Cities Service Oil Co., noted an hour time lag with his Hinsdale, Ill., headquarters in getting confirmation to change prices.

Howard Watts of Sinclair Oil Co., echoed the sentiments of oil company officials when he said, "We're going to remain competitive."

SJ Names Elementary Principal

For Either Brown
Or Jefferson School

Douglas E. Nichols of Highland, Mich., has been employed by St. Joseph public schools as an elementary principal.

He will be assigned to either Brown or Jefferson schools. Donald Leatz, who was principal at Brown has requested to be assigned to a teaching position and Earl Place, director of curriculum and principal at Jefferson, has retired. Nichols' salary will be $12,500.

Nichols was hired Monday night by the board of education, which also acted on other matters.

Salaries for some clerical employees, not supervisors, employed by St. Joseph public schools, will be increased $5 a week, St. Joseph board of education voted at their meeting Monday.

It was inadvertently stated Tuesday in this newspaper the increase was for $5 an hour.

Reimbursement of National Defense Education act application has been cut from 40 per cent to 24 per cent, it was also noted and not four per cent as stated. The funds are being sought for purchase of equipment mainly for the new junior high school.

Nichols was graduated from Lansing Sexton high school in 1948. He received his bachelors degree in music and history in 1953 from Michigan State university, spent two years in the Army and received his masters degree in administration and elementary curriculum from MSU.

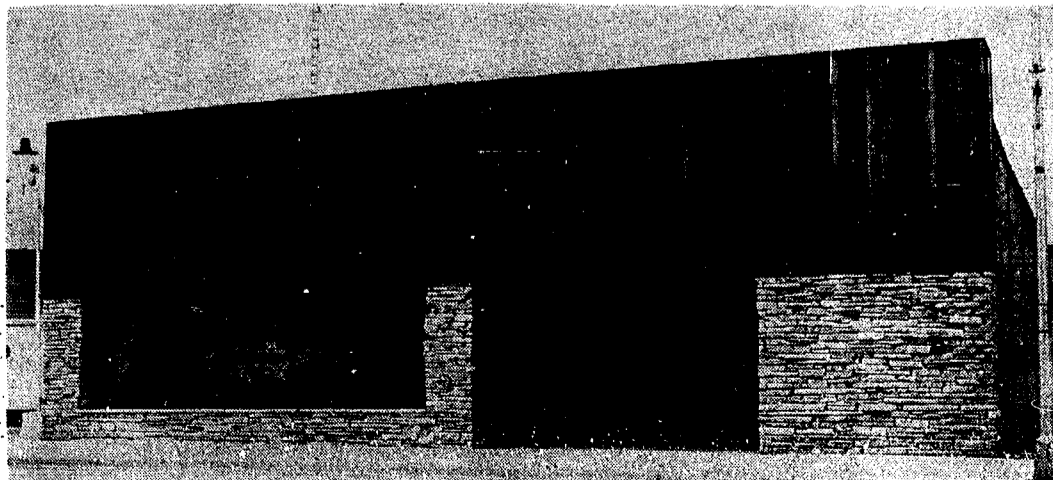

Nichols taught instrumental and vocal music in all grades at Fowler (1955-56), Caro (1956-60) and Milford (1960-61). From 1961-65 he served as an elementary classroom teacher and assistant elementary principal at Pontiac and has been an elementary principal in Milford since 1965.

Nichols, 39, is married and has three children.

This was confirmed by the Michigan Department of State elections division.

Currently president of the Allegan County Bar association, Miss Ramsey last June received the endorsement of that group.

Several women are running for district judge posts in Michigan, it was reported, but all, except Miss Ramsey, have opposition. Miss Ramsey is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Prohibition Candidate Tells Plans

Hopes To Get On 15 State Ballots

HILLSDALE (AP) —E. Harold Munn, running for president for the second time under the banner of the Prohibition Party, says he hopes to be on the ballot in 15 states.

Munn, contacted at his home in Hillsdale, where he is associate dean of Hillsdale College, said he hopes to make it as far as the west coast during his campaign this fall.

"I don't know for sure whether I'll get to the Pacific Coast this year or not," he said, "but last time I did — from New York to Washington and from Seattle to Long Beach."

Munn ran for president on the Prohibition ticket in 1964 and as the vice presidential candidate in 1960.

"I'll probably campaign during the last part of August, and the first part of September," he said, "but then I have to be on the job for the opening of the school year."

Munn said he felt the party would draw about one million votes if it could get on the ballot in all 50 states, but he declined to estimate the number of votes he actually would get. Munn was nominated his party's presidential candidate at its national convention in Detroit one year ago.

Applicants must be residents of Berrien county, but they may be studying at any accredited school of nursing or college of their choice, Gillespie said. The scholarships are for the coming school year.

Application forms may be obtained by contacting Andrew Novikoff, executive secretary of the Berrien county March of Dimes, post office box 42, St. Joseph. Winners will be announced Aug. 15.

high school athletic field to the city hall lawn and back to the athletic field after school officials complained that it was school property.

WATER REQUEST

The council voted to comply with the request of the Michigan Water Resources Commission to remove phosphorus compounds from waste water for pollution control. The clerk was instructed to write to the commission requesting that specifications be submitted to the city for means to accomplish such removal.

Bids for a fire truck chassis were read and then tabled pending further study.

The council approved the transfer of a liquor license from Mildred Blazek Schultz, 39 North Wittaker street, to James L. Kobach.

The council instructed the clerk to request detailed zoning maps of the city for all councilmen to study before approving a general plan and setting up a meeting date with the planning commission.

Mayor Anton Carson reported that all necessary papers for the city's lake water intake project are now in Lansing awaiting approval of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Miss Joan Weishaupl, city clerk, announced that the city clerk's office will be closed Aug. 6 for the primary election. Bills totaling $8744.77 were voted to be paid.

Lincoln Rents Land For Beach

Board Purchases Other Property

The Lincoln township board doubled the size of one Lake Michigan beach and added another through two business transactions approved last night.

The board approved an initial payment of $11,000 to exercise an option to purchase an additional 17 acres adjoining a beach between Marquette Woods and Grand Mere roads. The land, owned by Richard Trefz, carries a total price of $45,000.

The board also voted to rent 300 feet of land a mile away, which will provide 300 feet of Lake Michigan frontage. Rental was set at $300 through Labor Day on the land, owned by Joseph Capozio.

Township Supervisor Harry Gast, Jr., said the land owned by Trefz will provide 600 feet of lake frontage. The purchase was approved last week by township voters.

In other business, the board transacted routine business and listened to complaints from several citizens who, according to Gast, objected to the location of a proposed sewage treatment plant near their homes in the township. Gast said the township could not act, because it has nothing to do with site selection for the plant. The state ordered the village of Stevensville to build the facility.

WESTERN VACATION

THREE OAKS —Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shetterly and three children are home after a weeks vacation trip to Yellowstone.

STUDENT STAFF

Berrien Legal Aid

Opens Niles Office

The Berrien County Legal Services bureau has opened a branch office in Niles, which will be staffed initially this summer by two law school students.

Edward Yampolsky of Benton Harbor, director of the bureau, said the Niles office will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and will provide free legal assistance to indigent persons in the southern portion of Berrien county.

The office is located at 1002 Lake street, Niles. The bureau is operated in Berrien county under a grant from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

Yampolsky said two law school students, Joel Whetstone of Berrien Springs and Harry J. Atwell of Colorado Springs, Colo., will handle the affairs of the Niles office under supervision of Yampolsky and Atty. Paul Pollard. The two student barristers have been assisting Yampolsky and Pollard in the Benton Harbor office since early June. They will work until mid-August.

Whetstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Whetstone of Berrien Springs, is a student at the University of Michigan law school. Atwell is in his third year of law school at Notre Dame university.

Dump Sites Will Be Sought

Health, Welfare Building Off Drawing Board

By BILL HAMILTON
Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW —Van Buren county supervisors yesterday authorized a study of the county by a professional firm, to make recommendations on solid waste disposal.

The George Snyder Company, Jackson, was given authorization to make a study concerning possible dump sites within the county, and make suggestions concerning waste disposal.

The study will cost about $3,500. Approval by the supervisors was far from unanimous, however. Following much discussion, the vote was 15 to nine to approve the project.

PLAN NEW BUILDING

Supervisor Willard Rumsey, Almena township, reported that preliminary plans have been drawn by the architect for a new building to house both the health department and social services department. The county has taken an option on property near Lawrence as a possible site for the new building, if it is approved.

Rumsey said the preliminary estimates on the building were between $250,000 and $300,000. If the board decides to ask the voters for funds to build the building, Rumsey said, he thought about one-half mill for three years would furnish enough money for the project.

A committee which was given authorization last month to purchase some air conditioners for the courthouse reported that they had run into problems. They found units which could be purchased for the amount allowed, ($1,500), but said that when they went to check the amount of electrical current needed, they ran into a snag.

The new air conditioners would draw about 100 amps. The courthouse has only a 200 amp service now, and there is no room for more load.

With this information, the board decided to go no further until a study was made of the electrical circuits, and a decision made on whether to rewire the courthouse or add more circuits.

The board also considered the problems of setting up space and facilities for the new district judges who will be elected this fall.

Although the state will pay the salaries of the judges, which is $18,000, it is up to the county to furnish all other necessities.

PLAN FOR COURTROOM

It was decided to use part of the second floor of the courthouse, with two offices, for the new judge. The supervisors meeting room will be used as a courtroom except on the days when the board is meeting.

Members indicated that space would have to be rented in South Haven for the district judge in that area.

The board approved expenditures of:

— $4,620 to rebuild ground level entrances to the basement of the courthouse.

— $1,250 for a microfilm reader for the register of deeds office.

— $595 as payment for advertising with the West Michigan Tourist Association.

— $238 to Midwest Parking Company of Watervliet, for marking the new courthouse parking lot.

— $2,802.30 for general fund bills.

Brave Soldier Returns Home

'Mad Tanker Of Cu Chi' Welcomed At Baroda

BARODA — When Spec. 5 John H. Johnson came home to Baroda yesterday after finishing two years in the Army, one of which was spent in Vietnam, he found the front of his home decorated with a huge "Welcome" sign.

The whole family was on hand to greet Johnson, who was known to his buddies as "The Mad Tanker of Cu Chi", and who was decorated for bravery in action.

Johnson was a tank driver with the 25th Infantry Division, 3rd squad, 4th Cavalry in the battle zone. He was awarded the Bronze Star medal with V device for Valor in connection with operations against a hostile force.

According to his commander, Johnson was with a unit which came under heavy anti-tank rocket and automatic weapons fire. Johnson maneuvered his tank in front of some disabled and beleaguered armored personnel carriers. He fearlessly exposed himself to the intense enemy fire in a successful attempt to allow the evacuation of several wounded soldiers.

Due to Johnson's valorous actions the mission was successfully completed and the enemy force defeated.

"Specialist Johnson's personal bravery and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division, and the United States Army," according to his commander.

The action for which Johnson was decorated took place on March 6, 1968.

Another Part-Time Policeman

To Aid Colgren In Lawrence

LAWRENCE — The Lawrence village council last night voted to hire a second part-time police officer after agreeing to permit Officer William Colgren to work one evening, rather than two each week. Officer Colgren requested the reduction.

The council also agreed to award a contract for maintenance on the police radio to Monroe Electronic of St. Joseph, when the current contract with Induscomm Electronics, Paw Paw expires.

The Labadie Oil Co., Paw Paw, received a contract to supply gasoline to the village at

OVER $500 MISSING Niles Burglars Depart With 400-Pound Safe

NILES—Burglars made off with $544 sometime Monday night or Tuesday morning from the United Discount Store at 215 East Main street, according to Niles city police.

Officers said the burglars took $208 from two cash registers and then carried off a two-foot square safe containing $336. Officers said the safe weighed about 400 pounds.

Around $120 of the loot was change, officers noted. Entrance to the store was gained by first tearing out a vent in the west wall and then chiseling the cement wall to make a hole large enough for a man to slip through.

The safe was taken out through a loading dock.

a rate of 16.3 cents per gallon for regular gasoline and 19.5 cents per gallon for premium gasoline.

Also approved were the transfers of $2,000 from the receiving account to the contingent reserve account and $3,000 from the reserve account to the general fund. Bills totaling $5,097.81 were approved.

$1,000 Bid Accepted By Board

Bangor Township Road Improvement

BANGOR — The Bangor township board last night accepted a bid of $1,000 from Alden White of Watervliet for road improvement work, pending final approval by the Van Buren county road commission.

The work involves grading and rebuilding a short segment of Merriman Lake road.

Mrs. Eileen Nutting and Miss Marilyn Konkle were appointed to the board of canvassers, while the following persons were named to the election board for the primary election Aug. 6:

Precinct 1 at Bangor township hall — Mrs. Doris Piper, Mrs. Mary Ida Foster, Mrs. Viola Clay and Ben Fogelson. Precinct 2, at the settlement of McDonald — Mrs. Adella Spaulding, Mrs. Frances Sallis, Mrs. Mabel Post and Mrs. Bernadine Wescott.

The treasurer reported that he has received delinquent tax money totaling $2,689.68, and the board approved bills totaling $889.

14-YEAR-OLD Car, Tractor Collide; Niles Youth Injured

NILES — Paul Stuglik, 14, of 794 Beebe road, Niles, is listed in satisfactory condition today in South Bend Memorial hospital after a car-tractor accident yesterday morning, Niles state police reported.

Troopers said Stuglik is suffering from severe lacerations of the head, a severed artery of the head plus internal injuries. The driver of the other vehicle, Vernon Froehlich, 31, of Pokagon road, Dowagiac, received only minor bruises that did not require treatment, troopers noted.

The accident occurred on Barron Lake road three miles north east of Niles when the Froehlich automobile smashed into the left rear tire of Stuglik's tractor while attempting to pass the slow moving vehicle. Troopers said the impact ripped off the rear tire and threw the boy to the ground.

Northern Lights Dance In Skies

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Magnetic storms, triggered by the biggest, brightest solar flare in more than two years, produced an unscheduled view of the Northern Lights and again fouled up shortwave radio communications around the world Tuesday night, government scientists said.

More of the same appears to be in the offing.

Forecaster Karl Kildahl at the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center said there is a good chance of similar phenomena Wednesday night or Thursday as a result of another major, though smaller, flare Tuesday.

And, he said, data analysis showed a 65 per cent chance of a third large-magnitude flare Wednesday, when the effect of the first was expected to subside.

Residents of the northern United States should have been able to see a reddish glow on the northern horizon Tuesday night — "like little red fingers that go up into the sky and fall down again," Kildahl said.
